

GET IT BACK
WHILE IT'S STILL YOUR BIKE

Your bike is as unique as you are. Nothing can replace it. Certainly not an insurance check.

That's why rapid recovery is so important. Crooks work fast. Professionals can strip a bike down in hours. LoJack is your best bet for getting your bike back while it's still your bike.

It's the only tracking and recovery system that works directly with local and state police. The hidden LoJack unit is automatically activated by police computers when you file a stolen vehicle report. With tracking units in police cars, planes and helicopters, law enforcement officers can follow your bike's silent LoJack signal and nab the thief red-handed.

So you get your ride back fast.
And the bad guys get a ride to jail.
