2010 is RCR's 38th Anniversary!

Let RCR Find Your Next Boat, or Sell Your Existing One!

RCR YACHTS

What's New? by CEO Don Finkle: Boats are being launched at our yards in Buffalo and Youngstown, and new boats are being assembled for delivery to their excited owners. This is the time of year when we really earn out money, so much to do! If you have not made your plans yet for spring work or set your launch date, now is the time.

The remodeled bathrooms at our Buffalo marina have been really well received, as we had hoped and expected. Kudos to our staff who did the work.

Be sure to check out our events calendar below!

YachtWorld.com is the best-known on-line multiple listing service for used boats, although there are a number of other services that we use here at RCR as well. No one service reaches all boats, all brokers or all customers. In any case, YachtWorld just released this report: "As the first quarter of 2010 ended, yacht brokerages in the United States closed nearly 30 percent more boat sales than in the same period in 2009 and at a total valuation 70 percent higher." We are pleased to say that RCR did substantially better than those figures for the same period, and our sales activity level continues to be well ahead of 2008 and 2009.

It is that time of year again when I give me sermon on "do it now". Time waits for no man, nor woman, and the older we get the more time seems to fly by. Before you know it you'll be another year older and what will you have to show for it? I have worked very hard this off season, and one reward I am looking forward to is my summer sailing campaign. Next fall I want to be able to look back on the happy times on the water with my wife and friends during the summer of 2010. We hope you will be able to say the same thing, and have similar memories.

Our list of boats for sale continues to change each week, as boats are being sold and new listings are being added. We also have some price changes that you should take note of.

At least two federal income tax deductions of interest to boat owners remain in place for the 2009 tax year: mortgage interest deductions and state sales tax deductions. If you bought a boat last year, state sales tax or state income tax may be deducted. However, you must choose one; you can't deduct both. -- Complete report: (from BoatUS via Scuttlebutt)

Fire Extinguisher Tip: We draw your attention to Tracy's RCR Erie column below. A reader mentioned that you should turn your extinguishers upside down to make sure the powder has not solidified inside, rendering them useless.

Product of the Week: Hickory Springs Memory Foam Toppers, For A Good Night's Sleep On Board. The do-it-yourself memory foam topper kit from Hickory Springs Marine Group adds a more comfortable sleep-on layer to existing boat mattresses and creates comfortable sleeping space elsewhere on board. The conversion kit - available in twin, full and queen sizes - includes mildew-resistant memory foam, template paper and a cutting tool.

Way Cool New Fireboat: Here is a link to the newest fireboat for New York City, and also a new police boat for the Big Apple.

Green Ferryboat: Leave it to the Californians to plan a new wind-powered ferryboat for San Francisco Bay. The idea is to have small green diesel engines augmented by large wing sails on a catamaran hull. Fuel savings of 40%.

Better deals! In preparation for our busiest selling season of the year (Spring), we have approached a number of our brokered boat owners about re-pricing their boats to make sure they are optimally positioned to sell. So check out the reduced prices and new listings below, clean fresh water boats are your best option when looking used.

Buffalo Maritime Center: If you have ever thought of building your own small wooden boat, these folks can help you. They hold classes to teach the necessary skills as well as helping you build your own boat in their shop with their tools. Looking to sell your present boat? RCR sells an average of 150 boats each year, and we advertise all over, giving our sellers maximum exposure for their boats. For example, we advertise in three Canadian magazines to reach out to that market. We utilize five sales locations, numerous websites and print media, e-mail newsletters, boat shows, open houses. Our sales staff members are full-time trained professionals, easy to work with and anxious to sell your boat.

RCR will help you find the right boat for you! Our brokers will serve as "Buyers Agents" if you find a boat out of our market listed with someone else. We will protect your interests and represent YOU! It costs YOU nothing to use us...the seller pays our fee. We split the commission with the listing brokerage...just like in real estate. We do business in your community...our community...trust us to do the job for you. We've been doing it since 1972.

Sept 10 Erie Waterfront Heritage Days

TIPS & HINTS:

Maintenance Tip of the Week: A complete Safety Inspection of the engine, hull, and other systems should take, at most, an hour or two. And attention to detail this spring can make the upcoming boating season a lot safer and more enjoyable. (From Seaworthy)

- More on shaft stuffing boxes. The stuffing box SHOULD drip...the consensus is a drip every 2-3 minutes...this is necessary for lubrication of the shaft while underway. Many new boats have dripless shaft seals.
PYI Inc. manufactures the PSS Shaft Seal Packless Sealing System. It's a mechanical seal that uses a self-aligning carbon-graphite stator to ensure a 100% watertight seal. This seal will eliminate shaft wear and minimize corrosion. PYI also distributes many other marine products including the Max-Prop, feathering props. RCR is a PYI Dealer. Many marina mechanics I spoke to endorse this system. Visit PYI's web site. <http://www.pyiinc.com>
- Inspect fuel lines, including fill and vent hoses, for indications of softness, brittleness, or cracking. All suspect hoses should be replaced with Coast Guard approved J1527 hose. Check all joints for leaks and make sure all lines are well supported with non-combustible straps or clips without rough or sharp edges.

- Inspect all of the other components of the fuel system - fuel tanks, fuel pumps, filters - for leaks. A dry rag can be used at connections, or you can trust your nose. Clamps should be snug and free of heavy rust and corrosion.
 - Replace fuel filters...I have found haul-out time is a good time for this.
 - Clean and tighten electrical connections, especially both ends of battery cables. Loose connections can "arc" which creates a fire hazard.
 - Cooling hoses and fittings should fit snugly and be double clamped. Hoses that show signs of age or rot should be replaced.
 - Sailboat Rigging: Fittings, especially swage fittings, should be inspected for cracks and rust. Wire halyards and stays should also be inspected for "fishhooks" and rust, which snag fingers and is an indication the rigging is at the end of its useful life. Inspect spreaders and boots.
 - Remove tape from turnbuckles and lubricate threads (preferable with Teflon lubricant). Give the turnbuckle a twist to help prevent mechanical freezing. Replace with fresh rigging tape.
 - Chainplates mounted through the deck should be recaulked as necessary, preferable every 2 - 3 years. Leaks can cause problems, ranging from delaminated decks to rotted cores and bulkheads. Remove ALL of the old caulking.
 - Check and replace fire extinguishers as necessary.
 - Stoves and remote tanks should be inspected for loose fittings and leaking hoses.
 - Clean the bilge. Inspect the bilge pump and float switch for proper operation.
 - Replace outdated flares. Keep old ones as spares.
- A reader dropped me an email with an important point I failed to mention regarding fire extinguishers. (Yes, someone else reads this as well)

'Tracy, Just one point that I would like to make sure everyone is aware of when it comes to fire extinguisher inspections. It is very important that when inspecting your fire extinguishers (hopefully every month during the season!) you rotate the extinguisher 180 degrees (upside down) and "feel" the extinguishing agent moving inside the canister. If you can't feel the powder moving inside the extinguisher, have it serviced or replaced immediately. The gauge is simply a measure of charge pressure and there have been many occasions, according to my fire suppression service technician, where an individual pulled the pin on a "fully charged" extinguisher, squeezed the handle and only got a blast of nitrogen because the extinguishing agent had solidified in the bottom of the canister. Not a good start to putting out a fire, especially on your boat!! Also, it's a good idea to practice with an old extinguisher from time to time just to be sure you are familiar with the proper use. When a fire breaks out is not the time to be trying to figure out how to operate the fire extinguisher. Read the instructions and invest in a new extinguisher after you use an old one for practice. If the YC has large extinguishers that are commercially serviced, the service provider would probably be glad to come in for a nominal fee and provide training and practice for those interested. The provider might even be willing to come in on a Saturday to do the training with the right incentive (a couple of cold ones around a small fire is always fun!) We do recurrent training on an annual basis here and pick up some new knowledge every year." Have a great day, Jon Miller (Thanks John)
