What's New? By Don Finkle: We just completed a three week run of regattas, each of which was well worth attending. It would have been better if they weren't all back-to-back, but at least they did not conflict and we were able to do all of them. I want to thank my crew for doing the deliveries so that I could keep my head above water here at RCR, even if just barely. I want to especially thank Jeff Carver, Mark Schimley, Paul Hays and John Carver, all good sailors and excellent delivery crew.

The last of the three events we just completed was the I-LYA Put-in-Bay Senior Bay Week Regatta, an event we had never been able to do before due to scheduling. When the organizers responded to competitor requests to change the dates from mid-week to the weekend, and push the event a bit later, it opened up the possibility of finally doing the event. As a result of the new schedule they about doubled the attendance this year. We have written a report on Bay Week in the Commentary section below. We'll stretch the report over several issues so we can cover more. We had a lot of fun and plan to go back when the schedule permits.

Congratulations to 2010 Thistle National Champions Mike, Delia, and Sam Ingham. In addition to winning the Carron Trophy, the Inghams won the Valla Trophy for the highest finishing family boat, and the Haupt Trophy for the highest finishing husband and wife team. Ron Smith won the Presidents Series. National chairs, Skip and Laurie Dieball won the Minton for service to the class.

Thanks to Charlie Krylo of Oswego YC, Mark Cassidy of Olcott YC, Dan Fien of Rochester CC and Rob MacLachlan of NOLSC for sending in race results.

Important changes ahead for the Buffalo Maritime Center. The most immediate one is the closing of the Center at its present location 901 Fuhrmann Blvd. NFTA has decided to close the building. Anyone having a boat or personal materials in the Center should remove them by August 14. After August 31, the Maritime Center will have no control over the Fuhrmann Blvd. facility and cannot be responsible for anything left there. Failure to collect your property by August 31 will be regarded as your intention to abandon it. The Center will stop all work and be closed to the public on August 14 in preparation for our move to 1250 Niagara Street beginning September 1.

The Summer Picnic at the Pavilion at the Great Lakes Lab on August 31 and our Erie Canal Harbor Boat Display the weekend of August 28 and 29 will remain on the schedule. Watch for an announcement of a fall schedule of activities and our grand reopening in the new location early in the fall.

J/111 Sailing Fast! (from J/boats): (Bristol, RI)- The J/111 was launched in Barrington, RI in northern Narragansett Bay. Sailing on the 111's maiden voyage was Joe Pimenta of builder CCF Composites, Ben Hall and Corey Butlin of Hall Spars, Didier LeMoal of JB Composites (J builder in France), designer Alan Johnstone, and other J family members including Rod, Stu, Jeff and Matthew.

The weather forecast was partly cloudy with spotty ESE breezes from 0-12 knots, which is exactly what we saw for the 111's first shake-down sail. It was a good test of the boat's balance and acceleration capabilities in the low wind ranges. As designer Al Johnstone commented, "even with a #3 jib flying, we could tell right away that the J/111 has all the elements we were hoping for in terms of speed, acceleration and a feather light touch on the helm both upwind and downwind."

On day 2, the full Doyle inventory (including #1 jib) was flown and a five person crew took the J/111 upwind in a steadier 12-16 knot southerly to test the balance, responsiveness and stability. Grins all around as the J/111 sliced effortlessly upwind with minimal wake and very easy steering/ trimming with helmsman able to drive and play the mainsheet (fine-tune) like a J/80. Two people could handle the tacking duties, and the jib trimmer was in heaven being able to freely adjust the fore/aft/inboard jib leads with the cockpit led controls.

Jeff Johnstone added "we then hoisted the large A-Sail (130m2) and took right off. The boat balanced great and we felt we had equal opportunity to either go deep and rotate the kite out, or heat up to double digit speeds. We threw in several jibes, including a double-handed one in 15-17 knots with Rod on helm and mainsheet and Al on both kite sheets."

For photos of the first sail, please go to the J/111 photo gallery.

Regatta News:

Sail Oswego Labatt Blue Regatta Won by "Seaweed" (from The Palladium-Times): "Seaweed", a J/24 skippered by Fayetteville's Charlie Krylo, captured the championship of the 23rd annual Sail Oswego Labatt Blue Regatta, held July 23-24 in Oswego. Sailors aboard 30 boats took part in the five-race regatta, with competition in Lake Ontario off Oswego Harbor. The event was hosted by the Oswego Yacht Club at the Oswego International Marina.

"Seaweed" was the overall winner of the first race of the regatta. Krylo's other overall race finishes were sixth, third, fourth, and tied for ninth. That consistency gave him a final score of 23.5 (sum of overall place finishes). "Oz", a J/24 sailed by Tom Doran of Oswego, took second overall in the regatta. "Oz" had a pair of first-place overall finishes to go with finishes of 11th, fifth and sixth. Doran's score of 24 was just half a point behind Krylo's total. It was the second year in a row that "Oz" was edged out for the regatta championship. Last year, "Joint Venture" won on a tie-breaker over "Oz".

Completing the top five in the overall regatta standings were "Blaze", a J/30 sailed by Brendan Benson; "Innisfree", a J/24; and "mean Green", a J/24 sailed by Kirk Reynolds.

Seven boats competed for overall Group 2 honors. The winner was "Point Counterpoint", sailed by Chris Rotunno. Completing the top three from group 2 were "Sunrunner", sailed by Pat Fitzsimmins; and "Nanee", sailed by Bill Vanee."

Saturday September 11, Erie will have its first ever Cardboard Boat Regatta in the East Canal Basin behind the BCMS campus. A parade of entries will begin at 10am; racing will start at 11am. This is a perfect opportunity for schools, scout groups, community organizations, family teams, and businesses to design and build a boat to race. The cardboard boat race regatta will only add to the waterfront activities of the Erie Heritage Festival and Tall Ships Erie, which are set for the same weekend. You need to see the photos of some of the boats that have entered elsewhere, they are both ingenious and hilarious:

Commentary:

I-LYA Senior Bay Week at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, by Don Finkle: This report is going to stretch over several issues as there is a lot to write about. This week we'll focus on the venue itself.

There are 6 YRAs covering Great Lakes sailing, one for each of the GL's plus Detroit Regional. Inter-Lake YA essentially covers the Lake Erie region and nearby waters. Just as we have annual LYRA Regattas each year (almost always on Lake Ontario, except this year in Buffalo), I-LYA hosts theirs annually at Put-in-Bay on South Bass Island, located three miles off the north shore of Ohio on western Lake Erie. While the LYRA senior regatta moves around to a different club each year, I-LYA's Bay Week is always at PIB. There are actually 3 regattas, Junior Bay Week, a Powerboat event, and Senior Bay. The Junior regatta is huge and takes place before the others. This report is about Senior Bay Week, which was a three-day event held August 6-8.

I-LYA has been around for about 117 years, just shy of LYRA's 126 years, so there is a lot of history here. Having heard of "Bay Week" for about as long as we can recall, it was on the list of things to do if the opportunity ever presented itself. Unfortunately, the two big "must do" events on our personal calendar each year are the Youngstown Level and the LYRA, and Bay Week never fit our schedule before. Bay Week had suffered declining attendance in recent years, as have many regattas, and the organizers polled their constituents for suggestions. The response they received was to move the event from mid-week to a Friday-Sunday schedule. As a result the attendance this year was way up, from about 70 boats to approximately 150. That total includes all types of boats, from Hobie Cats to a white-sail cruising class to larger PHRF and offshore one design yachts.

Before getting into the event itself one must talk about the venue. Being on an island is always cool. I had seen the charts of the area many times, and roughly understood the layout of this series of islands just west of Sandusky Bay in the western basin of Lake Erie. I had, however, never been there before. You must experience it to understand and appreciate the place. The first reaction I had was of how close the islands were to shore (South Bass Island is only 3 miles from the mainland) and to each other. Most of the islands are in the US, but a few smaller ones, plus Pelee Island, the largest, are in Ontario waters. Our delivery crew were reminded of this as they sailed into the stretch of water between Pelee and one of the US islands on the way in and were hassled a bit by a US Border Patrol vessel.

Put-in-Bay is a village on South Bass Island with a large protected harbor, offering moorings, docking and an anchorage. I have not seen anything like PIB elsewhere on the Great Lakes, certainly not on Lake Ontario. It is a serious resort party town. Wall to wall bars and restaurants, plus of course shops of all types. It did not take long to realize that the legal climate in Ohio is not the same as it is here in NY. Nobody wears helmets on motorcycles, scooters, bicycles or other vehicles. There is no such thing as cutting someone off at the bar because they have been "over served". The traffic on the roads borders on crazy. There must be 10,000 golf carts on the island, we rented two of course, plus all manner of other scooters, bicycles and such. While all these folks are crowding the roads, only half paying attention to where they are going, the locals weave their cars and trucks, taxis and buses way too fast through the melee. Why there is not an accident every hour is beyond me. While killing some time on Saturday, when racing was cancelled due to lack of wind, I decided to climb the lighthouse on the island. It is now owned by Ohio State University and is open to the public. When I got to the top I found that you could go out on the observation platform which had only one waist-high railing. It would be very easy to fall through. But of course this sort of freedom, which we don't see around here, is part of the fun of being on vacation in a new place.

Getting to the island is easy and inexpensive. There are ferrys that run every half-hour that carry vehicles and passengers. I thought that $56 total round-trip for the two of us plus our truck was very reasonable. You can of course also come by boat or plane. Some of our crew slept aboard the boat, the rest of us who had brought our non-racing wives along, stayed at a B&B which happened to be across the street from the island airport. Because the weather was good the parade of private planes in and out was a great source of entertainment by itself.

While much of what goes on in PIB seems to be very loose and relaxed, they do not mess around when it comes to fining you for things they do not allow. Over the years things managed to get out of hand at times, so the local constabulary imposes stiff fines for certain types of offenses. These include an open container in public, which is cause for an immediate trip to the local jail. They can get so drunk you can't stand up in the bar, but don't take your drink off premises. Our crew saw a girl in a tiny black Bikini jump into the fountain in the park, and within seconds she was put in handcuffs and taken away by the police. Parking fines for golf carts are $250! The price of fines for most offenses is very steep, including docking more than 4 boats deep, which we were told was $250. On Saturday we were rafted about 6 boats out when we heard commotion on the docks and saw two policemen ticketing boats for this offense. We untied and bolted, since we were in the section of docks reserved for the racers and could not believe what was going on. As it turned out the Mayor and other officials got involved and the tickets were torn up, and the harbormaster stopped by the awards ceremony and said that would not happen again next year. I should emphasize that the sailors are not the reason things get crazy in this town, it is full of young people and they are the ones who have to be reined in.

Next week we'll continue the story plus talk about the racing. I'm still looking for results, which we should have by then.
