YACHTS

What's New? by Don Finkle: Rick Lenard, RCR's broker in Buffalo, and his wife Terry are in Paris right now as a result of winning the Top Gun award from Beneteau. We are proud of him for this accomplishment and pleased that he and Terry are getting some time away. Rick is a workaholic and this is one way to keep him out of the office for a few days! He has promised lots of pictures of the Paris Show.

One concern for anybody with a gasoline engine is the proposed change to E-15 fuel which will raise the amount of Ethanol from 10 to 15%. The EPA has delayed a decision on approval of this change because there is so much concern for the damage that could be caused to engines not designed for it. Read on:

Readers of this newsletter have been commenting on the fact that we seem to be selling more boats of late. Fortunately that is true, we are seeing more activity and the pent-up demand is resulting in much better sales than last year at this time. Yacht World, the largest on-line boat marketplace, sends us monthly reports of the number of boats being sold and the price trends for their entire system. Beginning this summer the downward trends in both unit sales and selling prices started to reverse themselves and the industry is now seeing more sales volume and a stop to the bottoming out of prices. Those waiting for the deals to get better should think again, because as the market is improving the selection will diminish.

We hope you all had a wonderful Thanksgiving. Heather and I visited our kids and their families in Newport, RI for the holiday. Naturally I was able to sneak off to do some prowling of the local boatyards. I had planned on inspecting a brokerage boat for one of our clients while there, to see if it was worth his effort to make the trip later to see it. Unfortunately it was not. We would like to share a few observations with you:

The boat I went to see looked good on paper and in the few photos provided by the listing broker. I have found that most of the small photos posted on the Internet typically make any boat look better than it really is. This is because they are not close-ups and don't show the "warts". For a 12 year old boat of this considerable value I was surprised at how the owner had let the condition deteriorate. I was also surprised at how little effort (virtually none) had been spent to prepare the boat to show. In the salon there was a bucket sitting on the seat to catch water from a hatch leak, and there was considerable water in it! We are talking about a $150K boat here. Note to sellers: any money and time spent to prepare your boat for sale will be readily repaid in a better price and a quicker sale. There are too many options for buyers, they don't want to buy your problems and clean up your mess.

Those of us who spend most of our time on fresh water don't realize just how much salt water effects the condition and aging of a boat. Even with good maintenance the salt water and air ages a boat and all of its systems much more rapidly. Take that into consideration when you see the prices of salt water boats advertised. A fresh water boat will always be more valuable, everything else being equal.

I found it curious that the percentage of boats under cover or shrink wrapped was a lot less than we have here. This was true of the four yards I visited.

Sometimes the simplest tips should be obvious but yet valuable. As I was assisting one of our customers with uncovering his cockpit the other day I was pleasantly surprised at how easy the button snaps were to get on and off. He has a custom fitted winter cover. He explained that John of Custom Covers told him that he should put some Vaseline on the snaps at least once a year. It works like a charm and also keeps them from corroding.

I was reminded of another tip as I was walking the yard and saw cove stripes and boat names on hull sides that were scuffed or torn by fenders. First of all, when placing a name on the side of your hull you should locate it so that it is aft of where you would normally hang your fenders. Secondly, hang your fenders below the cove stripe. Tape or paint will not hold up to repeated scrubbing.

The Sabre 456 is coming: Sabre is bringing back an updated version of the Sabre 452 with a new keel and interior layout, to be known as the 456. There has been building demand for a boat like this in the mid-40's size range. More details below in the New Boat section.

Centek BilgeKleen™ Prevents Overboard Discharge of Oil & Fuel: Specially designed to fit a wide range of vessels, the BilgeKleen™ filter system from Centek Industries automatically removes oil, gas, diesel fuel and other hydrocarbon pollutants from bilge water before it is discharged overboard. The patented system uses a filtering medium that binds to hydrocarbons and allows water to pass through freely. As a result, over 99.9% of the hydrocarbon pollutants are captured with no increase in pressure to the bilge pump. The BilgeKleen System installs easily to the bilge pump discharge line and includes an absorbent pad for the bilge sump area to capture harmful contaminants where they form. A variety of BilgeKleen System sizes are available to fit almost any bilge space or application from runabouts to commercial vessels.

Windfarms coming to our shorelines? One thing I try to avoid is taking a position on an issue until I have done my homework and understand and appreciate the factors involved. There are proposals for windfarms to be placed off the NY shorelines of Lakes Erie and Ontario and this is stirring up some expected debate and considerable consternation from those who either use the water or reside along the shore. For some thoughts on the subject check out this story and see the 2nd map at: <http://bewarenywind.blogspot.com/>

New Boat News:

The Sabre 456 is coming: The Sabre 456 (ex-452) will make a come back in the summer of 2010. This fabulous Jim Taylor design is timeless. She sailed so well that most people would not believe she could compete boat for boat with the likes of the J46 but once the results were in, the Sabre 456 had shown her transom to most of the fleet.

In this new layout the forward cabin berth will be shifted aft to create an island berth forward for the owner. The owner's stateroom will also include a larger dressing area, more hanging locker space and more drawers for personal effects and gear. In her aft cabin the berth will be laid athwartships so that the guests too will have a queen sized mattress on their berth. They too will enjoy more standing/dressing space in their cabin.

Jim Taylor will be working on a new keel design to really optimize her performance with the latest research. Look for the 456 launch in mid-summer 2010! www.sabreyachtsblog.com/2009/11/the-sabre-456-is-coming.html

Hey...Holiday recipe time...send me your favorites to share.

I tried this one from Giada...easy and looks great!

Holiday Biscotti - Recipe courtesy Giada De Laurentiis

Ingredients

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) unsalted butter, room temperature
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon zest
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 large eggs
- 3/4 cup pistachios, coarsely chopped
- 2/3 cup dried cranberries
- 12 ounces good-quality white chocolate, chopped
- Red and green sugar crystals, for garnish

Directions

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F.

Line a heavy large baking sheet with parchment paper. Whisk the flour and baking powder in a medium bowl to blend. Using an electric mixer, beat the sugar, butter, lemon zest, and salt in a large bowl to blend. Beat in the eggs 1 at a time. Add the flour mixture and beat just until blended. Stir in the pistachios and cranberries.

Form the dough into a 13-inch long, 3-inch wide log on the prepared baking sheet. Bake until light golden, about 40 minutes. Cool for 30 minutes.

Place the log on the cutting board. Using a sharp serrated knife, cut the log on a diagonal into 1/2 to 3/4-inch-thick slices. Arrange the biscotti, cut side down, on the baking sheet. Bake the biscotti until they are pale golden, about 15 minutes.

Transfer the biscotti to a rack and cool completely.

Stir the chocolate in a bowl set over a saucepan of simmering water until the chocolate melts. Dip half of the biscotti into the melted chocolate. Gently shake off the excess chocolate. Place the biscotti on the baking sheet for the chocolate to set. Sprinkle with the sugar crystals. Refrigerate until the chocolate is firm, about 35 minutes.

The biscotti can be made ahead. Store them in an airtight container up to 4 days, or wrap them in foil and freeze in re-sealable plastic bags up to 3 weeks

Boat Named Tautomer: "My older Hunter with the B&R rig sails to windward fine but is less effective downwind. As a chemist I know the word means a substance with two entirely different natures just as my boat changes character depending on the course relative to the wind. Of course it also sounds like a play on words la mer being French for sea. Hope to see some other ones that tweak the imagination. Regards to you all at RCR, Tony"
